

GREEN MATTERS

From Cllr Sharron Sumner

FIGHTING FOR YOU

“I’m standing up for the things local people voted for”

Surbiton Green Councillor, Sharron Sumner, is campaigning for the things that matter to local people - and for which they voted last year.

Many local people are disappointed by the actions of the Lib Dem majority on the council which has seen them go back on a number of commitments made just last year.

Sharron explains, “I’m still standing up for what I promised residents - action on clean air, protecting schools and services for the vulnerable and arguing for a sustainable development. Sadly, the Lib Dems have gone back on their word - threatening school budgets, failing to act on air pollution and 20mph, cutting down healthy trees and backing over-development at the Toby Jug. My final straw was the closure of Murray House old peoples' home – despite pledging to keep it open prior to the election.”

“That’s why I’m now a Green and we’re getting things done.”

GREEN ACTION IN SURBITON AND TOLWORTH:

- Opposed overdevelopment at the Toby Jug and now campaigning against plans to turn Tolworth Court Farm nature reserve into a cemetery.
- Set up a successful citizen's assembly on trees.
- Promoting clean air through the KingstonCAN campaign.
- Standing up against school cuts and closure of childrens' centres.

GREENS ADVANCE AS CONSERVATIVES COLLAPSE

Across the country in the May elections the Greens gained dozens of seats and defeated the establishment parties in their heartlands. In Surrey the Green Party surged with gains from the Conservatives in Spelthorne, Guildford, Waverley, Reigate and Banstead. And in the European elections the Greens more than doubled the number of their MEPs as Labour and Conservatives crashed. Green MP Caroline Lucas said "These are the best ever results for the Greens."
